

Home » Categories » Philosophy and Religion » Paranormal Beliefs

How to Make the Philosopher's Stone

Edited by UtherPendragon, Krystle, Permasofty, Commander x and 7 others

Edit

Write An Article

Random Article

Article

Edit

Discuss

0

0

4

Pinit

Like

+1

The stone grants extremely prolonged (not eternal) life, aids psychic powers and opens up the mind to true beauty.

Ingredients

Edit

- 1 cup of raw sea salt
- 10ml of Holy Water
- 1 liter of dew
- 1 leaf of gold or silver

Steps

Edit

The Elixir

1 Using a mortar, grind to a fine powder the salt and then dissolve in the dew with the Holy Water, and shake from time to time. After four days, filter all of the undissolved salt out. Do not let the temperature get above 70F during this time, or the spirit will escape from the dew and all your work will be in vein, even 70F might be a little to warm and some of the spirit will be lost. This first step is crucial, because for this process to work the water needs to be completely saturated with salt so that it will let go of the "Alkahest" and precipitate it as a powder each time you overheat the flask.

2 Pour this into a flask until it is two-thirds full, then seal it and set it into digestion of a Balneo Mary bath. This means to place the flask in a bowl of water that is heated to around 110F to 120F. But instead of using a water bath, this can easily be achieved by using a heating pad sold at Walgreens for only $15. Simply wrap the heating pad around the flask or bottle. the temperature should be around 130F, but the water in the flask will be slightly lower due to the glass barrier. The top of the flask will be much cooler, allowing the vapors to condense into droplets of water.

3 After a Philosophical Month (six weeks) there should be a black powder that has precipitated to the bottom of the flask, not yet a salt, only a powder. Sometimes it may take as much as fifty days for the powder to become black. Within the first week you

Home » Categories » Philosophy and Religion » Paranormal Beliefs

How to Make the Philosopher's Stone

Edited by UtherPendragon, Krystle, Permasofty, Commander x and 7 others

Article

Edit

Discuss

Related Articles

Follow Your Intuition

Improve Your Luck

Capture a UFO Image on Camera

Search for Bigfoot

Featured Articles

Read Music

Get Rid of a Runny Nose

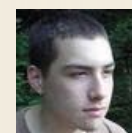

Fry Pot Stickers

Celebrate National Umbrella Day

Meet a Community Member

Meet Zach, a lover of all things wiki who become a member of wikiHow just over a year ago when he came across our article on How to Hack. He does a lot of work behind the scenes, as well as patrolling recent changes and voting on articles nominated for deletion. He recently became an admin, and loves that wikiHow allows everyone to edit and improve, even if they don't have an account.

Join The Community

Things to Do

- collapse

- Write an Article

will see the powder forming on the bottom, which will look like floating debris, but it will take the entire six weeks for the powder to become black or at least darker.

- Edit this Article
- Request a New Article
- Answer a Request
- Login for more!

Places to Visit

+ expand

Follow Us On...

4 Place the flask in a dry sand bath for 2 weeks at 200F, and the powder will coagulate and become a grey salt, no longer black.

5 When this happens, make sure that no more than two days pass before you change back to the lower temperature of the Balneo Mary bath. After two weeks pass, the matter will slowly redissolve into water and putrefy, again to fall out.

6 Again put the flask in your sand bath, and it will form itself into a salt, which again will be even lighter than before. Repeat this cycle of placing the flask in the Balneo Mary bath and then in the sand bath, and on the fifth time, it will be snow white, and if you were to take some of it out of your flask and place it on a hot silver plate, it would melt like wax.

7 But keep the flask sealed and set it back into the Balneo Mary bath to putrefy once more, and after enough time has past, a third of the salt will dissolve into the water. Now filter and set aside the salt which did not dissolve. The salt water is now the Mercury of the Philosopher's and the Alkahest, which is able to instantly dissolve all metals without violence and bring them to their highest state of perfection.

8 This water can be taken at a dose of five drops, and it will increase your thinking power and memory, and if administration is continued, it will sharpen your senses until you can both see and hear the spirit world, and in that way, you will be invited into the true and invisible Order of the Rosicrucians. But a word of caution: i do not have enough experience with this Alkahest to know the dosage. The original manuscript says only to take five drops, and does not say if this is to be a single dose, or if you should continue ingestion. other alchemy manuscripts say that if you take a single drop each day in a small glass of wine, after one month you will be able to see and hear elemental spirits.

The Stone

1 To make the Philosopher's Stone from this most blessed and holy salt water, all one need do is dissolve fine gold or silver leaf in the water warmed up to a gentle heat, and it dissolves without violence, and without release of gasses which proves this is no chemical reaction taking place, and after four days, filter the solution so the remaining undissolved metal is left behind.

2 Set it in Balneo Mary to putrefy, and treat it as you did before, doing the same simple process of the Balneo Mary bath and the coagulations in the dry sand bath. After each digestion in Balneo Mary then coagulation in the sand bath, the stone is multiplied. And after the fifth cycle, it will begin to literally glow and emit its own light. The stone from gold will glow like a hot coal, and the one from silver will shine like the moon. If you attempt to bring it further into the sixth or seventh multiplications, it will penetrate the glass, causing a terrible poisonous gas odor. If you intent to bring it even further, you must use a quartz glass.

Tips

Edit

- You can collect the morning dew by simply placing a bag of ice in a bucket or pitcher around 1AM and bringing it back inside around 5AM. This will give you at least 50ml per night. Do not collect the dew by dragging a canvas cloth along the grass, because you can not distill the dew to putrefy it; it needs to be used raw for this process to work. The same holds true for the sea salt. It can be cleansed by water washes only, and then allowed to sun dry.

Warnings

Edit

- Many alchemists have warned of the great danger involved with handling the stone when it has been brought passed the seventh multiplication, and they tell of a great catastrophe that could result.

Sources and Citations

Edit

- This is the method shown by Nicholas D. Collette in his PDF book The Universal Medicine.
- qglass.com
- The original authors website is Alchemy Illuminated.

Article Info

Categories: Paranormal Beliefs

Recent edits by: Genius_knight, DarknessAndLight, TheMasterCrafter

Share this Article:

Tweet 0

Like 0

Discuss Print Email Edit Send fan mail to authors

Thanks to all authors for creating a page that has been read 4,545 times.

Was this article accurate?

Yes

No

Explore Categories

Arts and Entertainment	Cars and Other Vehicles	Computers and Electronics	Education and Communications
Family Life	Finance and Business	Food and Entertaining	Health
Hobbies and Crafts	Holidays and Traditions	Home and Garden	Other
Personal Care and Style	Pets and Animals	Philosophy and Religion	Relationships
Sports and Fitness	Travel	wikiHow	Work World
Youth			